

UNDERPASS AT LAKESIDE.

Commissioners Intimate That One May Be Ordered.

Advise City of Burlington and Railroad Company to Reach an Agreement As to Type—Investigating an Accident.

The State board of railroad commissioners, consisting of J. W. Richmond of Newport, E. H. Porter of Wilmington and S. H. Jackson of Barre, with R. W. Spear of Newport, official clerk, held two hearings in this city Friday, one with respect to a petition for an underpass at Lakeside and one to investigate the death at Winoski, Sept. 14, 1907, of John W. Gregory of Watselet.

The hearing on the underpass was held in the afternoon. The commissioners, accompanied by the attorneys in the case, railroad officials, aldermen and other city officials, made a trip by special trolley car to the place of the Lakeside crossing, where the premises were examined. The hearing on the petition was then held in the city court room.

The petitioners were represented by City Attorney J. H. Macomber. State Attorney A. L. Sherman appeared for the State in behalf of Attorney General C. C. Pitts. Judge R. C. Mower represented the Rutland railroad. Claim Agents Macomber and Chief Engineer Moore, also of the Rutland railroad, were present. Charles E. Allen represented the interests of Louis A. S. Allen, R. A. Cooke, the interests of the Queen City Cotton company and Julius Roland his own interests.

The witnesses examined were Dr. B. J. A. Bombard of Lakeside, alderman from ward six, ex-Mayor James E. Burke, the Rev. W. A. Plamondon, Julius Roland, Anthony Donnelly, Max Glazett, Dr. J. W. Gregory, and former City Engineer W. O. Sinclair.

Dr. Bombard estimated that 500 persons employed in the cotton mill passed the objectionable crossing over the Rutland railroad a total of 1,200 times daily. He estimated that 67 teams cross the track daily. He mentioned the fact that the same way to conduct business by employees of the Lakeside North American company's plant. The only access to Lakeside from the Addition without trespassing is via the crossing, this condition involving all of the children from the Addition who attend school at Lakeside and all of the people at Lakeside who attend St. Anthony's Church at the Addition.

From further testimony of Dr. Bombard and the other witnesses it was brought out that the pitch on the east side of the crossing is very steep and has been responsible for breaking many wagons and other conveyances; that the Queen City Cotton company's mill obscures from the north; that the shrubbery and trees obscure from the east side the trains from the south and that this obscures the increased from the fact that the pitch approaching the crossing is so steep, this latter condition making it impossible to see a northbound train until one is practically on the crossing. When trains are on the siding on either side of the main track, it is very much harder to discern approaching trains. From the west side, the view of those approaching the crossing is obscured by dwelling houses. The crossing, it was found, has always been considered a very dangerous one from the fact that the pitch on the east side is so steep. Then, too, one of the fastest trains over the crossing at a high rate of speed at about noon, the time when mill employees are passing to and from work.

Former City Engineer Sinclair testified that in the summer of 1906 he made plans for an underpass at Lakeside, the estimated cost being $12,500. These plans were examined by the commissioners yesterday.

At the conclusion of the hearing, Chairman Richmond of the commission suggested that within four weeks the city and the railroad confer and approve the type of pass to be installed, provided one should be ordered by the commission. Previously Chairman Richmond had remarked: "We are quite likely to order something."

THE WINOSKI FATALITY.

In the morning a hearing was held in the matter of the death in Winoski, September 14, 1907, of John W. Gregory of Watselet. At this hearing, State Attorney A. L. Sherman represented the State and C. W. Witters the Central Vermont railway. The witnesses examined were Mr. James C. Winoski, at whose house Mr. Gregory was visiting, Conductor Kent and the engineer and brakeman of the train which struck the victim. The principal testimony, that of Engineer Hutchinson, was to the effect that Mr. Gregory was standing on the high bridge just beyond Winoski when the train approached from Essex. Mr. Gregory had his tripod and camera on the bridge. As the train approached he moved the tripod and camera and stooped down on the girders alongside of the rail but the engine struck his hip and he was hurled over the bridge to the water and rocks, 80 feet below. The engineer thought the man could have saved his life if he had not tried to keep the camera and tripod.

Hale's Honey of Borobond and Tar

Clears The Voice
Sold by Druggists
Pike's Toothache Drops
Cure in One Minute

BOOK BINDING AND PRINTING

It will cost you nothing to get prices and we have been able to gain and satisfy so many good customers that we feel sure that you also will find our print shop and bindery able to serve you to your complete satisfaction.

THE FREE PRESS PRINTING CO., Burlington, Vt.

POSITIVE PROOF.

Should Convince the Greatest Skeptic in Burlington.

Because it's the evidence of a Burlington citizen. Testimony easily investigated. The strongest endorsement of merit. The best proof. Read it: Peter Hanlin, of 156 No. Champlain, St., Burlington, Vt., says: "There was a constant soreness in my back and a dull pain in my kidneys particularly when stooping or exerting myself. During an attack I could not get a good night's rest and if I took cold it always settled in my back and made me worse. I had terrible dizzy spells and the disease finally affected my eyes so that it was almost impossible for me to read my paper, and my limbs began to swell noticeably. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the Park drug store and commenced using them. They acted directly on the kidneys and I grew better gradually until the lameness and soreness left my back and the bloating subsided."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—take no other.

CHARITIES DEPARTMENT.

Chairman Smith Replies to Mr. Burke's Criticism.

A letter in the Free Press yesterday morning by our ex-Mayor, Mr. Burke, furnished the board of charities an opportunity to say some things which perhaps ought to be said.

Under the new charter, it became the duty of the mayor to select three citizens to constitute the board of charities and to have charge of that department, who were to serve without compensation. It is evident that the mayor, in his selection, intended to take the department entirely out of politics, as he chose for the board Dr. Wheeler, a democrat, myself, a republican, and the Rev. W. J. Barrett. When the board was organized, the oversight of the poor was given to understand that it was the intention of the board to have the department conducted on a strictly business basis; that all cases should be carefully looked up and the worthy poor well taken care of; also to prevent the board from being imposed upon either by professional paupers or by those sent from other towns; and as far as possible, to furnish employment for those who were able to work and to encourage them in maintaining themselves and their families, instead of allowing them to become paupers, and to destroy their self-respect and that of their families. He was given distinctly to understand that it was not the aim of the board to try to save money by depriving those in need, but rather that all cases of the worthy poor should be well taken care of and the work done as economically as it could be done.

In the few months since its appointment, the board has endeavored to carry out the policy indicated above, and familiarize itself with the needs of the poor and with the best methods for providing for them. All suggestions and information have been gratefully received. In the two cases mentioned by Mr. Burke in his article, I believe if he or any other good citizen had come to the board and obtained all the facts as they appeared upon investigation, that the action of the board would be entirely justified.

I would like to say in closing that the board's desire is to have the department well and properly conducted. We hope to organize the department in such a way that our work will be of permanent value to the city, and we welcome assistance and suggestions from any citizens interested in the welfare of the city.

C. P. SMITH, Chairman Board of Charities.

SHARED IN $19,905.74.

Vermont Marble Co's Profits at Stores Given Employees.

Following the custom of the last four years, the Vermont Marble company has just caused to be distributed among its employees in Proctor and West Rutland trading at the company stores during the year 1907. The gross sales at the Proctor store amounted to $250,000 and at the West Rutland store to $150,000. The net profit being $16,000.40, of which $600.95 has been turned back into the store to apply to the business of 1908 and the balance, $15,399.45, has been distributed at the rate of 10 per cent. on the total sales to employees.

The gross receipts at the West Rutland store during the same time were $90,000.50 and of this amount $70,000.00 was expended at the store by employees of the company. The profit for the year 1907 was $4,577.08 all of which was turned over to the employees trading at the store during the year on a 5 per cent basis, with the exception of $106.88 which was returned to store to apply to the business fund for 1908.

A dividend was not declared for those employees who traded at the Center Rutland store, which was recently destroyed by fire. The business done at the other two stores is practically the same as in 1906.

These figures were computed by the committee of the employees acting for each store.

BIG FARM SOLD.

F. H. McGinnis Sells the Charles E. Miner Farm on Dorset Street.

The F. H. McGinnis Realty company of Essex Junction has just sold one of the largest farms of the county, William J. Barker of Colchester, having purchased the Charles E. Miner property on Dorset street, as farm contains 26 acres of cleared land and is equipped with valuable buildings, tools, artesian well, etc. It has always been the pride of Mr. Miner to have one of the best farms in Vermont and he has not hesitated to spend money freely in getting his property in line condition and in keeping it so. Mr. McGinnis is to be congratulated on his success in finding a buyer able to handle so valuable a farm.

APPROPRIATED IN FRANCE.

The Le Popelin Building, situated on a wharf beside the Seine River, Paris, France, was recently roofed with our Compo-rubber roofing. Samples free. Strong Hardware Co., Burlington, Vt.

Dyspepsia is our national ailment. Burdock Blood Bitters is the national cure for it. It strengthens stomach, purifies blood, promotes healthy digestive juices, purifies the blood, builds you up.

LIBUT. PICKEL RETIRED.

Cavalry Officer Leaves Army Because of Injured Knee.

Brilliant Philippine Record—Commanded Post and Was Military Governor of Two Provinces When Twenty Years Old.

Lieut. Arthur N. Pickel, 5th U. S. cavalry, who was recently ordered before a retiring board by direction of President Roosevelt, in a list of retired in consequence of an injury to his knee sustained at drill in May, 1904, the retirement to date from the 21st instant. At the time of the injury Lieut. Pickel's knee was twisted and the cartilage was injured so that for the past year and a half he has been under treatment of an orthopedic specialist in New York. While the knee is improving and complete recovery is expected, the nature of the injury is such that a recurrence of the trouble might be brought about in a few days. Lieut. Pickel will leave in a few days for New York City to receive further treatment until the knee is well. He is placed on the retired list as a first lieutenant of cavalry and will draw from the government three-fourths of his present salary. He is also at liberty to pursue any calling he may choose and later will engage in the marble business in Tennessee, where he has extensive quarry interests.

Lieut. Pickel's military record is a brilliant one. Born near Knoxville, Tenn., May 2, 1880, a son of the late Samuel A. and Cora E. Pickel, at the age of 16 he entered Carson and Newman College at Jefferson City, Tenn., and in the fall of 1898, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in the spring of 1899, young Pickel, then a sophomore, went as a non-commissioned officer into the 3rd Tennessee volunteers, serving until January 31, 1899, when he was mustered out. He then received a commission as second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Cavalry, and in